

Junior Engineer, Technician

Delta is seeking a Junior Engineer, Technician for our downtown Chicago office. The categories include, Civil, Structural, Electrical and Mechanical Disciplines.

This candidate must be industrious , diligent , ambitious, hardworking, and career oriented individual.

This role requires some aspects of technical knowledge and experience by the candidate and will work under the supervision of a senior engineer. Guidance and mentoring will be provided as required for the Candidates.

A qualified candidate will demonstrate responsible care and judgement while performing most tasks, assignments and designs independently in the office or at home.

Responsibilities:

- After training is provided , Candidate to perform CAD design under directions of SR. Engineer.
- Coordinate with reviewers to ensure accuracy and quality of work.
- Assist Sr. Engineer to manage and maintain project documentation
- Coordinate with other junior technical staff as required.
- Independent critical / analytical thinking and ability to make timely and well-informed decisions
- Other duties may be assigned as necessary depending on the skill level, ability and talent of the candidate.

Minimum Qualifications preferred:

- Acceptable communication skills in English in writing and speaking.
- Bachelor or Diploma in Engineering (Civil, Structural, Electrical and Mechanical Disciplines).
- Some years of Design / CAD experience in his / her individual discipline is a plus.
- Proficiency with Computer skills such as Microsoft, Excel and other software's as required for office work
- Strong organizational skills and attention to details.
- Ability to work independently at home and under supervision and guidance provided in the office, while managing multiple priorities for various tasks.